

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Brown has a new ad. Rather warm the past few days. Kathryn pictures Thursday night. Everything growing wonderfully fast.

Still the watermelon car comes to town.

Much like fall this (Wednesday) morning.

The valley boys are organizing a football team.

The first frost in the fall of 1913 was September 22d.

A new roof was put on the post-office building this week.

The Des Arc and Ironton teams will play ball next Saturday afternoon.

Next Sunday is the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Pilot Knob.

W. D. Fletcher shipped a big bunch of goats to St. Louis Tuesday night.

For Rent—House in east Ironton. Inquire of Mrs. H. F. DINDMAN.

If the frost holds off a couple of weeks many people will be cutting hay.

Autumn Millinery Opening at the Style Shop, Thursday, October 1st, 8 to 10 P. M.

Watch for the first of the "Lucille Love" pictures. Another serial picture as good as "Kathlyn."

All kinds of garden truck becoming plentiful. Beans, ten cents a gallon. The price has been forty cents all summer.

Mr. Vaughan, the automobile man in north Ironton, wants to sell his property, we understand, and remove to Toledo, Ohio.

Found—Sunday, September 13th, a pair of spectacles. Inquire at this office, pay for this advertisement and take the glasses.

Fall Opening at the Style Shop, Thursday evening, October 1st from 8 until 10 o'clock in the evening. The ladies will not forget the date.

Dr. W. J. Smith Tuesday left at this office a fine stalk of corn grown in the field at Pilot Knob. There were six good ears of corn on the stalk.

Business at the granite quarries is very quiet. All the paving contracts have been filled and a few orders for stone are all that is in sight at the present time.

Dr. Buck of St. Louis has leased the Dr. Wick home in south Ironton and will take possession October 1st. W. D. Fletcher will remove to Mrs. Close's cottage, in east Ironton.

Grace Cunard and Francis Ford will thrill, amuse, and entertain you in the famous "Lucille Love" series. This series is issued every week. First date will be announced next week.

Rev. W. W. Strother has sold his farm, near Des Arc, and removed to Fredericktown where his daughter will attend school this winter. The farm was purchased by some man in St. Louis.

Rev. Vincent O. Penny, of Colorado City, Colorado, will hold services in St. Paul's church, Ironton, Sunday, September 27th. He will have charge of the work at Ironton, De Soto and Fredericktown.

Mrs. M. P. Crafton, a former resident of Ironton, is the guest of Mrs. M. B. Bradley. Mrs. Crafton has been living in St. Louis, but will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Toney, in Piedmont.

The Big Muddy Coal & Iron Company has made a price of ten cents a yard to the city for the rock on the dumps at Pilot Knob, provided the city decides to use that material in rebuilding the streets.

Mr. J. W. McCamey left Tuesday morning for Creston, Washington, where he has a brother living and where he will probably make his future home. He is a good man and citizen and we wish him well.

Prof. G. W. Signer, who will have charge of the Bismarck schools the ensuing year, was a caller last Thursday. Mr. Signer is a worthy young man and we take pleasure in commending him to the Bismarck folk.

Dr. M. N. Powers, who is on a visit to relatives at Lawrenceville, Ill., will return in time to be in his pulpit on Sunday. At Lawrenceville he will also be in attendance at the Southern Illinois Conference which is in session there this week.

Newland S. Vickery of Hogan had a preliminary examination before Squire Rasche last week on the charge of feloniously assaulting Mrs. Williams, after some discussion about some peaches which Vickery claimed belonged to him. Vickery was held for circuit court.

Our old friend, Wm. Crommer of Belgrade, was in Ironton this week on his way home from a visit to his son, Wm. F., in Carter county. More than thirty years ago Mr. Crommer and his good wife were our next door neighbors and kinder and better neighbors no man ever had.

Dr. and Mrs. Steel accompanied their daughter, Miss Mary, to St. Louis Tuesday evening, where the latter will undergo treatment at the Mayfield Sanitarium for an affection of the heart. Miss Mary, through her prominence in church and educational work, has a wide circle of friends in this section of the State who will anxiously await news of her speedy recovery.—Lead Belt News.

Next Sunday will be Rally Day at the Baptist Sunday School. You are cordially invited to be present, bringing some one with you to enjoy the special exercises prepared for the occasion. Sunday School at 9:45; preaching services at 11 by the pastor, J. W. Trus, Superintendent.

Congressman Walter L. Hensley, who is recovering from the effects of an operation, is spending a few days on the farm near Jersey with his brother, Thornton Hensley. He has sufficiently recovered to be able to proceed to Washington in a few days to resume his duties in Congress.—Festus Independent.

M. G. W. Durfee of Arcadia Monday showed us a photograph of a threshing scene in a Kansas wheat field, sent him by his friend, Clem Urein, of Yocemento, Kansas. Mr. Urein attended the land congress here in 1910 and spent several weeks in the valley then. He writes Mr. Durfee that he and his brother threshed 55,000 bushels of wheat with their threshers this year. Mr. Urein also sent a couple of bunches of Kaffir corn, which are on exhibition in the Register office.

The following was received a few days ago by Mr. Levi Oren of this town:

WASHINGTON, September 15, 1914. Dear Sir—I am planning to visit Pilot Knob on Saturday and Sunday, the 26th and 27th of September, the 27th being the fiftieth anniversary of the battle. I write to ask you if any arrangement has been made for a celebration at the fort on that day, for examples as had on the Fortieth Anniversary.

I am going to bring my daughter, Alexandra Ewing. She is my father's oldest grandchild. Yours very truly, THOMAS EWING.

The parcel post last Sunday brought to Mr. Wm. Fraunreicht, from his friend, Pat O'Brien, of Los Angeles, California, a singular implement of war from the Philippines. It was labeled, "Ifugo Headax," and is a forbidding looking weapon, something like a double-bit ax, excepting that one-half the blade runs to a point. The helm of the implement is finely ornamented, and the blade is of tempered steel of razor-like sharpness. It is the product of a tribe of primitive savagery, and one wonders that, without mechanical appliances, so perfect a piece of workmanship was accomplished. Mr. Trauernicht has placed it in his museum of curiosities.

According to the Charleston Republican that town has people who have power to dream dreams and see visions also. An aged citizen named D. L. Barrington unbosomed himself to the editor of that paper of a divine visitation in which a great earthquake is to come in 1916 and destroy Sikeston, change the course of Mississippi river so that it will cut through from Cape Girardeau to New Madrid, and as a consequence Charleston will become the largest town in Southeast Missouri. Such a catastrophe might put Charleston in Illinois and then we of the 14th Congressional district would be non-plussed as three of our candidates reside in that city, the democratic, republican and progressive.—Puxico Index.

My young friend, Pat O'Brien, is in town shaking hands with old-time friends. He left Los Angeles last Friday and landed here Monday night. He is in fine health and looks not a day older than when he shook the dust of the Valley from his feet nine years ago. He brings cheering news of cherished friends in the Far West—how I would like to meet them and talk of the days of auld lang syne!—friends who in other time made the better part of my life. But I fear this is all vain imagining, and so I take Pat by the hand and enjoy his presence as a return of a portion of the pleasure once we knew in each other. Mr. O'Brien will depart in a few days for Illinois, where there are other old friends to greet. May good fortune attend him!

A petition is being circulated this week asking Revs. Burke and Hobbs, the evangelists who are now at Bismarck and who have conducted successful meetings at Bonne Terre and Flat River in this county, to come to Farmington for a meeting. Merrill Pipkin tells us that so far about two hundred people have signed the petition. It is understood that most if not all of the local pastors, while not opposing a union or tent meeting, have felt that perhaps other evangelists than Messrs. Burke and Hobbs would do a greater work here than they could do. Last year the two local Methodist churches united in a revival that did much lasting good for both congregations and the community generally. They will likely continue this effort during the coming winter if a union meeting of all the protestant churches is not arranged for.—Farmington News.

Deputy Game Warden S. W. Warren, of Pemiscot county, arrived in Ironton last Sunday and next day drove to the Silver Mines dam, of which the fishermen have been complaining for so many years, and says it should be torn down or suitable spillway provided. On the way to the dam Mr. Warren came across W. D. Tucker and J. E. Fisher, of Flatwoods, who were carrying guns with them. The Warden promptly took them in charge for hunting without license. Both men were released, however, on their promise to come to Ironton next day. Warren then proceeded to the dam and made an investigation. He says that it is clearly in violation of the law and he can not understand why it has not long since been removed. Mr. Warren will make his report to the State Game Warden and says he expects to receive instructions immediately to blow up the dam—which will be no easy task. Tucker and Fisher came to town Tuesday morning. But when they informed Prosecuting Attorney Damron they had been apprehended in Madison county that official declared it was a matter for the Madison county authorities to settle. Messrs. Fisher and Tucker say they were not hunting. They were going to a neighbor's to deliver one of the guns. Comparatively few hunting licenses have been taken out in this county in recent years. Last year the total was 183; up to the present time this year 67 licenses have been issued. The greatest number of licenses issued in this county in any year was in 1909 when the total was 467.

The marriage of Miss Birdie Norwine and James DeGuire was consummated at Arcadia last Thursday morning. The young couple went from there to St. Louis for a short visit and then here and from here they will go to Sikeston where they will make their home, where Mr. DeGuire has a position as assistant manager of the Missouri Public Utility Co. Both parties were born and reared in this city and Mr. DeGuire's parents are still living here, Mr. and Mrs. Joe DeGuire. They have hosts of friends here and both are very popular with our young people. The marriage is the result of a long wait. They have been keeping company for many years, but Miss Norwine's mother was living and in poor health and she thought it her duty to take care of her as long as she lived and James thought the prize worth the wait. The Tribune joins their friends in wishing them the brightest pathway through life.—Fredericktown Tribune.

The pupils of Miss Irene Marshall gave a Recital at her residence last Sunday evening. To my regret, I was unable to attend, but an audience of about forty had the pleasure of hearing the rendition of the following programme:

Last Waltz—Misses Elizabeth and Helen Rosentreter.
Rustic Dance—Miss H. Rosentreter.
Sing, Robin, Sing—Miss Anna Farrar.
Morning Song—Miss Minnie Collins.
Child's Song—Miss Mildred Marshall.
Linwood Duet—Misses Mamie Barnhouse and Mildred Marshall.
Etude and Sinner Song—Misses Marie Barnhouse.
The Harbells—Miss Dorothy Reese.
The Woodbine—Miss Helen Reese.
Blossoming Flowers: Duet—Misses E. Rosentreter and I. Marshall.
La Begonia and The Juggler—Miss Elizabeth Rosentreter.
Egeria—Miss Irene Marshall.

The evening was one of enjoyment to those whose ears are attuned to sweet sounds in harmony blending, and all praise the instructress whose ability is emphasized by her success in training the unskilled hand to subdue the troublous technique of "the art divine."

There was an omission and several inaccuracies in the list of election judges published last week. Following is the corrected list:

Des Arc—W. E. McKee, Cal. Prov. Ince, Flynn Chilton, John Nations, D. H. Stevenson and Fred Amaden.
Annapolis—Ad. Reese, John Lewis, Sr., Alonzo Miller, C. W. Phillips, Andy Robinson and J. R. Dobbs.

Dunn's—J. R. Goff, Marion Colyott, Sam. Huff, Delbert Markham, Wm. Bance, B. F. Govero.

Polk's—T. B. Polk, Eugene Seals, W. L. White, Pete Ivester, Jas. McClard and Chas. Pannabaker.

Hogan—Chas. Holloman, R. S. Huff, R. F. Holloman, Newt Huff, Mont Whitehead and N. S. Vickery.

Arcadia—Wm. N. Knight, James B. Evans, James G. Austin, W. H. Tapley, Wm. Selinger and Bud Tual.

Ironton—Wm. B. Whitworth, E. L. Barnhouse, John Reed, C. S. Russell, Wm. Gunnett and A. L. Schwab.

Pilot Knob—Gus C. Kaesemacher, Wm. Hart, John Duree, John Fahland, August Schwab, John Amelung, Ghermanville—Ben Sloan, R. A. Brown, Chas. Ferguson, Sr., Joe Haven, Sam Robinson and Jehu Jones.

Bellevue—E. M. Logan, D. J. McKinney, N. Warren, G. B. Phillips, Bunker Smith and O. D. Lashley.

The Bismarck Meeting.

(Bismarck Gazette.)

The Burk and Hobbs meeting has completely swept the entire town and surrounding community. Never before in the history of the town has there been such a revival of religion. More than 200 have signified their intention to lead a Christian life. One significant fact is that a large majority of the converts are men of influence and young men.

A Men's Gospel Team has been organized with about 140 members, who are doing personal work in the meeting, and after the meeting is over they will continue their organization and efforts in the line of all kinds of Christian and social service for a better Bismarck. The town has already a much better moral tone and a much closer co-operation among its citizens.

The incidental expenses of the meeting have been secured by the evening offerings and the committee having this in charge are more than pleased with the results.

The meeting will close Sunday night and the evangelists will go to their home in Kansas City for a few days' rest, after which they will go to Illinois for a meeting, unless they change their plans and consider a call from Farmington which has put in a very strong invitation for them to come and hold a meeting there.

All of the churches have been greatly strengthened in numbers and in zeal. The Sunday schools have almost doubled and every good movement has been advanced.

Notice to the Ladies.

The well known Warner's "Rust Proof" Corsets are now carried by N. Brown. Try one of the Corsets.

Des Arc Items.

I was down to Tasker, Elsinoe and Greenville last week. I never saw crops of all kind come out as they have. There will be more than half a crop of corn and lots of millet hay. I was also out on the Missouri Southern Railroad. Business has picked up wonderfully since I was there last. I understand Woodman & Walther have an order for one million feet of yellow pine paving blocks, any length; they will be cut into short blocks and treated at the factory. C. S. Pitts gave the Bunker-Culler Lumber Company a check last week for $1886 in payment for ties. He has a large order but they must be white oak.

I stopped a while at Reynolds. Mr. Carryhan, the store manager, reports business improving. I was also at Patterson; that country is the garden spot of Wayne county. I met thirty or forty teams going to Piedmont for fertilizer. They are preparing to sow large crops of wheat and rye. The valley between Piedmont and Patterson is beautiful; with the mountains in the background it reminds one of the holy land scenery, where Christ dwelt. I went out in Lee Sparks' automobile, but as he had to go on to Greenville I returned in a farm wagon, but got there all the same. I stopped a while at Trust King's. He is doing a nice little business at Damon. While rambling around in Piedmont I noticed that J. S. Berryman had wonderfully improved his home; Louis Miller of Arcadia is the contractor. It is the prettiest home in Piedmont. J. W. Skiles also has a lovely home.

We are still working on the murder cases, near Des Arc. Those poor boys were brutally murdered. One of them was heard to call "mama," in a pathetic tone. Our grand jury will investigate.

Neely Harviell of Hendrickson was here Sunday. It looks like old times to see him around.

I attended a General Baptist Association at Leeper one night last week. I never saw so many old preachers as there were there. One poor old feeble fellow, with long white beard, 84 years old, was asked to say something about Christ and His Holy Name. He walked to the pulpit and commenced singing in a very feeble way.

I am going home to glory, I am going home to glory! In the good old-fashioned way; he carried the song through by himself. It brought the house to tears. He said "Brethren, I am only here for a short time. This is, no doubt, the last time I will ever meet you here on earth." It affected me for I know I will not be here very long myself.

I attended the Burk and Hobbs meeting at Bismarck Sunday night. They have had a wonderful meeting—over 300 converts and some of the best business men in Bismarck. Fifty-one were baptized Sunday by Rev. Webb, 25 or 30 more to follow. Bismarck has been turned upside down. I was glad to see quite a delegation in attendance from the valley. Among them Joe Reyburn, Judge Gay, Bro. Willard and others; also quite a good many from Irondale, Caledonia, Flat River and Farmington. The meeting closed Sunday night.

Miss Martha Kelley has been teaching at the Roberts' school the past week in the place of Miss Della Keathley, who has been on the sick list; the patrons seem highly pleased with Miss Martha's work. ISAAC.

Come and see our new stock of Chinaware. A. RIEKE & SON.

Annapolis News.

The drouth is over. It rains most any time now.

Lucian Kelley and Anna Fancher were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother in Annapolis, Friday, September 18, 1914, at 8 P. M., S. Kitchell officiating.

Quite a lot of fishermen disembarked from train 23 to-day; some went to Hunt's, some to Warner's, and others to nearby places in Reynolds county. Two old gentlemen from Indiana arrived here last week to go out to Jim Brown's, to fish and hunt. Fishing and hunting grounds are plentiful, but can't say as to the game. Mr. Warner is in town nearly every day bringing some one to board the train.

Gus Funk has been missing baled hay from his farm sheds, and the man who took them is known. The best thing for him to do is to come forward and pay for six bales, and avoid trouble.

Robert McLeod is running a barber shop here now and may put in a lunch counter.

Elza Wagoner has closed his restaurant and is now in Detroit, Michigan, where he will remain for some time.

Peter Young and family, who left here last spring and went to the western part of Reynolds county, near Ohlman, have returned to Annapolis.

A fine bunch of cattle were brought in here Sunday from Chas. E. Bolch's stock farm by S. E. Warner and Ed Thurman and shipped to St. Louis. Mr. Bolch received $63 a head for the cattle.

Gus Funk sold two three-year-old steers for $120.

Luther Daniels is scouring the country for cattle. He bought seventeen head near Annapolis Saturday.

I have received a letter from John Kitchell at Halleysville, Oklahoma, telling of the narrow escape from death of his son, Edward, last Sunday morning. The young man, with a couple of companions, was standing in front of a building constructed of large stone. Without warning the structure suddenly collapsed; one of the young men was instantly killed, another had a foot so badly smashed that it had to be amputated. Edward escaped injury. The young man recently visited his grandfather in Annapolis.

Drilling for lead in this section has been postponed until next spring. Charley Reynolds has sold his mule team to John Goodman. Price for the outfit, $300; cheap. Charley is thinking of going to St. Louis and working on a street car.

A lot of drunken young men here Sunday morning.

Robert A. Dunn is having his Confederate pension voucher executed to-day, but will get no money until the legislature meets next year.

Mrs. Miller, wife of our postmaster, visited in Ironton the past week.

Mrs. Fannie Culton visited her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Polite, of Arcadia recently.

Mrs. Chas. Hampton visited her brother, Richard Hackworth, in Des Arc, several days the past week.

Andrew Sutton walked in home last Wednesday from Ohlman, in Reynolds county. No work there, he says.

Church every night this week by Rev. Alcorn until Friday, when he will go to Greenville and Rev. Mitchell will succeed him here.

Bellevue News.

Uncle Jack Palmer spent Saturday and Sunday in Bismarck.

J. C. Forshee of Ironton was out on business last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Queen visited relatives at Doyle the first of the week.

Mrs. Ellen Burton of Piedmont visited her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Shelton, last week.

Mrs. E. Wood of St. Louis spent a few days of last week in the home of Mrs. Virginia McColl.

Miss Nova Stevens is visiting relatives in Iowa.

Mrs. T. H. Weaver of Pueblo, Col., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Wallen, on Reed Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smith of Ironton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Russell a few days the first of the week.

On last Wednesday, while standing on a chair fanning out flies, Mrs. Auburn Edmonds fell, dislocating the elbow of her left arm and bruising the flesh considerably. We are glad to say that after a few days' treatment she is able to be out.

On last Thursday morning Mrs. T. E. Bell received a message saying her father, who resides in Vandalia, Mo., was dying. T. E. Bell started at once. Her father lived till 12 o'clock Saturday night. Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Bell and the other relatives of the deceased.

The Death Angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Middleton on last Friday afternoon and took from them their only child, Mrs. Middleton Sohn, after a lingering illness of consumption. Cora was a few months past 21 years, and had been a member of the Methodist Church for more than four years. Three of the six young lady pall-bearers and the three young men who acted as ushers were young people who took the church vows and received baptism at the same time she did. Funeral services were held on Sunday at the Methodist Church by B. W. Bynum, who received her into the church. There was a large crowd in attendance. She was laid to rest in Eldon Cemetery. The entire community is in sympathy with her parents, husband, and the little two-year-old daughter, and other bereaved ones. ALFA.
